WALLACE MEMORIAL HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING

“The Black and Gold”

*The magic name, the L. H. S.,
Has risen high in world renown;
And other schools must now confess
It wears, deserved, the highest crown.*

*Faint yellow tint, nor pale sky blue,
Will suit the grandeur of our thought;
We have the older, richer hue,
The precious metal deep inwrought.*

*We have not crowned a hero, dead,
Nor lifted veil from marble cold,
Nor spoken high of those who bled
To save a kingdom long foretold.*

*To us all the scene is grand,
And worth a princess to behold;
We are not writing on the sand,
We are praising the Black and Gold!*

*The Black and Gold! How true the sign
To life in all its endless form!
'Tis dark, but there's the golden line,
'Tis seen through all the blinding storm.*

*The Black a needed lesson gives,
To moderate our earthly joy;
To every age, to each that lives,
There is the mixture of alloy.*

*The Gold, it speaks of life to come,
Man needs this rich enlivening boon,
To cast its radiance like a sun
O'er all the black, oppressive gloom.*

*These colors represent our school,
And should also represent our life;
Let not our youthful ardor cool,
Until we perish in the strife.*

*Though the burning sun grow pale,
And the youthful stars are old;
Still let it ring o'er hill and vale,
Do not forget the Black and Gold.*

Seniors

Senior Class History

Dignified Seniors! All Hail! And you remember just what sort of a bunch we were when we first started out to investigate the "House of Knowledge." Let us turn back to those primary school days, happy, irresponsible and free. It was then that we began our record in the Lebanon Schools. Through the grades new classmen were added to our numbers, and as the years passed by new records were made, which have brought honors to our class. In High School success has followed every phase of work, both in class room and activities. Not only have we been loyal in school work, but it has been a pleasure as well.

Therefore, it is with much regret that we bid L. H. S. farewell this spring. We hope the future students will appreciate the advantages this school has offered to us, the Seniors of '28.

PAUL HOOPER, President

IN MEMORIAM

ROBERT ARTHUR LEWIS

SENIOR

Born—May 2, 1909

Died—April 3, 1928

Senior Class Poem

*Hail to the jolly Seniors
Of our dear old L. H. S.
Of all the classes before us
Our class is surely the best.*

*We started our "revival of learning"
As little "Freshies" so green,
And oh, how we envied the Seniors
As we looked on their faces serene.*

*In spite of our trials and hard studies
Our "Soph" year found us back
Eager for Latin and History
And other "hard nuts to crack."*

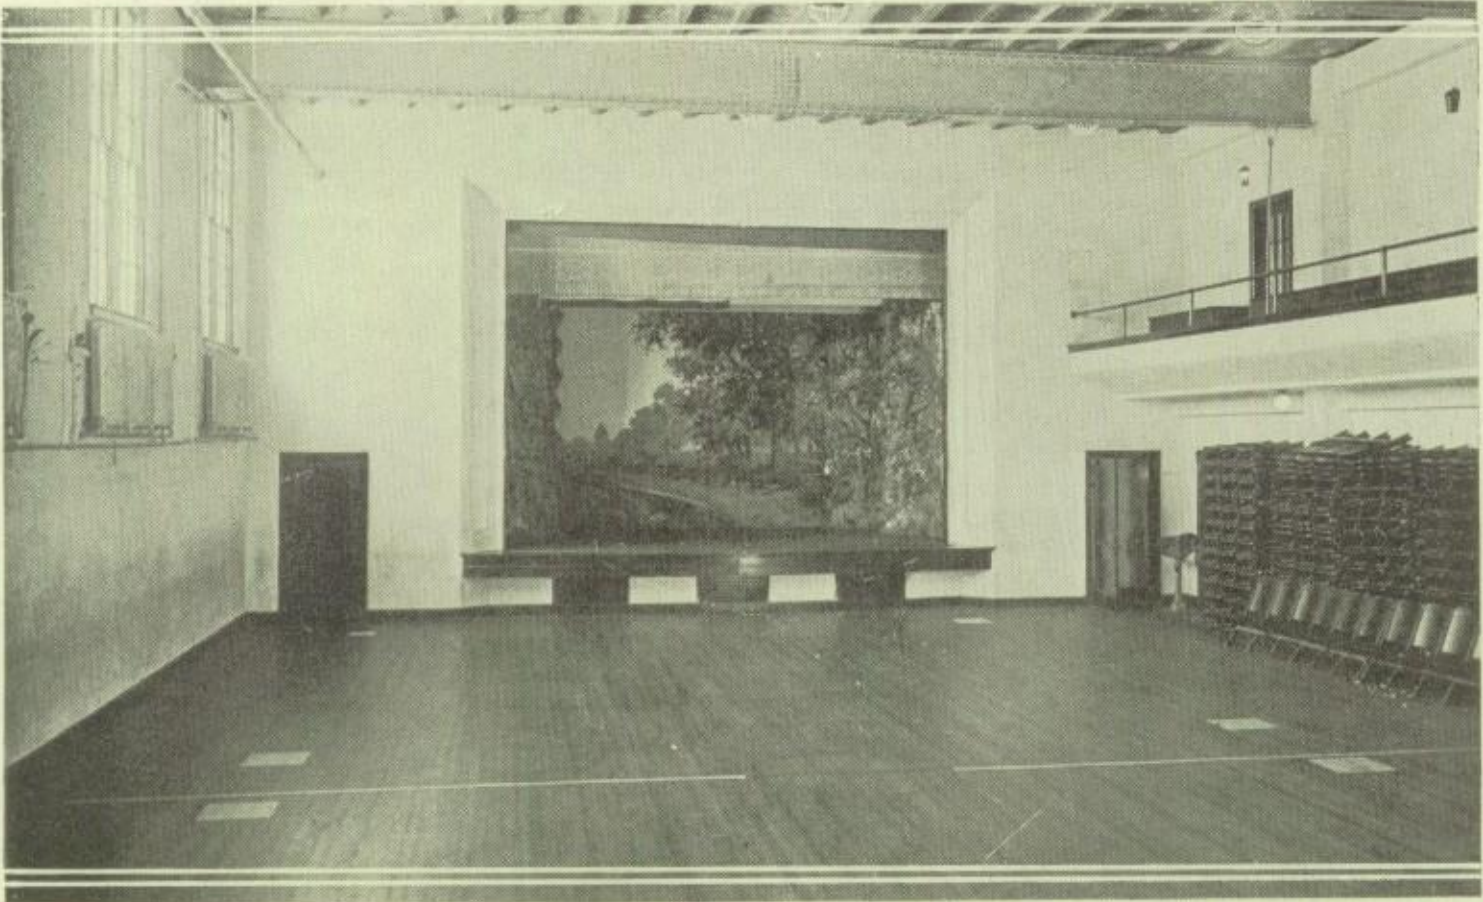

*In our Junior year of High School
We accomplished much you'll find;
Both boys and girls honors won
In activities of every kind.*

*But four years have passed so quickly
For now we're the Seniors grand,
And I know you can't find a better bunch
Though you travel o'er sea and land.*

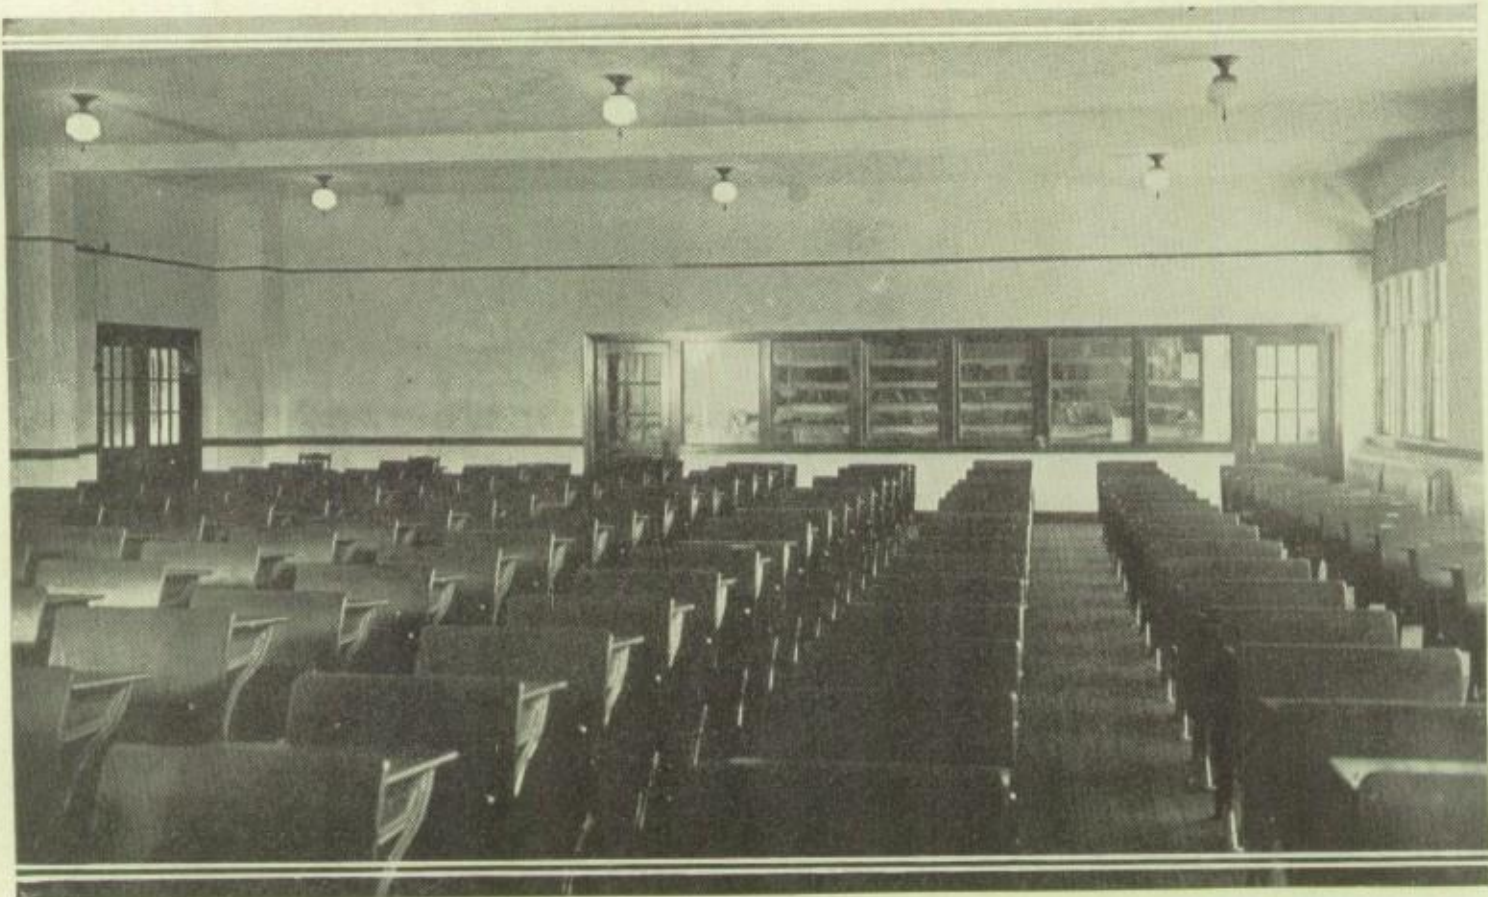

*'Tis with regret we're leaving our school
Where alike we've shared studies and pleasures
But as we roam the wide world over
In our hearts that memory we'll treasure.*

*So unfurl our colors to the sky,
Our Alma Mater hail
To L. H. S. we raise the cry
The Seniors can never fail.*

Junior Class History

Jolly Juniors! This expresses our exact sentiment! Turning back the pages of time, you will find a group of merry boys and girls entering the "Doors of Education" for the first time. These pupils were both studious and happy. Through the years which followed, these qualities and many more superior ones have been developed in the class. By their attitude in work and activities they have proved their abilities. It will be difficult to exceed the high examples which the Seniors of nineteen twenty-eight have set before us. This class has as their goal higher aims and ideals than any previous class has accomplished.

Therefore, it is with great pleasure that the Juniors assume the duties of the dignified Seniors of nineteen twenty-eight.

Sophomore Class History

"Happy is the class whose annals are brief." Our class started in last year ninety strong and only ten thus far have dropped by the wayside. The eighty survivors are plodding along the highway of knowledge without stopping to loiter.

We do not claim to have furnished many great athletes, orators, debators or musicians, but for plain plodders in the classroom we would challenge any class to take the banner from us. We are proud of another distinction, too. The personnel of our class has remained almost the same since we started in the first grade. We have worked together from year to year, almost from the time that we learned to read, and we hope to survive the last two years of High School with unbroken ranks.

We have been fortunate in having the same sponsor both last year and this. Our class organized in our seventh year and we have kept an organization each year.

In social activities we have been far from frivolous. In fact the history of our class can be summed up in these words: Hard work and plenty of it.

Junior High School

Freshman Class History

The members of the Freshman Class held their first meeting September 23, 1927. Since there were 140 of us there was no place large enough for us to meet except in the Study Hall. At this meeting the following officers were elected.

President—Orval Hough.

Vice-President—Vernace Roper.

Secretary-Treasurer—Opal Murrell.

Sergeant-at-Arms—Tom McBride.

Miss Foster was chosen class sponsor.

At a meeting of the Junior High Student Body, Herbert Hillme, a Freshman, was given the honor of being elected President of the Student Body.

The councilmen of the Freshman Class are as follows:

Helen Huer

Louise O'Dell

Raphy Page

Floyd Ragland.

During this year we have become acquainted with several new and different subjects in the course of study, such as: Latin, Algebra and General Science. In spite of our "proverbial verdancy" we hope to become Sophomores next year.

Eighth Grade Class History

On September seventh, a class of sixty-six boys and girls assembled in Junior High. They had worked together for seven years and were pleasantly contemplating another year of successful work and an abundance of fun. Thus far the year has been entirely successful. The class has done splendid work. Too, there have been many pleasures associated with 1927-28.

Having progressed this far in our educational career, we hope we will be promoted into the ninth grade. As we advance in our school life we will strive to add honor to those before us.

Seventh Grade Class History

This is our first year in Junior High School. This year there were a great many changes in our course of study as well as in our manner of conduct. Our teachers have very kindly helped us to become adjusted to the changes in the course of study, and the contest for the "Best Citizen" has shown us that self-control in conduct is quite essential to Junior High students.

Our class was organized the first week of school with Mrs. Gilbert as our sponsor. As a class and as members of the different clubs we have taken part in the assembly programs and in the various club programs.

"Beyond the window when the spring is new,
Are marbles in a square, and tops again,
And floating voices tell him what they do,
Luring his thoughts from those long-warring men,
And though the camp be visited with gods,
He dreams of marbles and of tops, and nods."

Walter Weber—This is a lot more fun than the farm.
Ruth Traw—Are you bothered with growing pains?
Frederick Knight—So clean, he and Ivory float.
Freida Cooper—Really, it's just like Galli-Curci's.
Ila and Laura Turner—Make a pair of sisters who are very sweet.
Perry Van Hooser—What he knows, he knows, and that's that.
Mary Willard—I've It and I know it.
Francis Koby—Manager of all the bands plus an orchestra or two.
Herbert Hillme—Guides the Junior Hi.
Mary Louise Wilson—With pencil or brush she can make any of us blush.
Hudson Foster—Jumps to get the tip-off every time.
Jim Gray—Shaves with the lather from his puns.
Hazel Clark—"No one ever beat Urseba Applegate."
The Twins—"Two souls with but a single thought."
Ruby Whittaker—So extremely modern.
Howard McClure—Humor, puns, jokes.
Julia Diffenderfer—But "Vanity Fair" says it's the latest not to wear a bob.
Ruby Massey—With a lot of pep done up in a little package.
Billie Lemery—Watch his face when he makes a goal.
Evelyn Weber—Be careful, dear, it's such a wicked world.
Irene Deppe—She reads a lot.
Edgar Hatten—"Dog-gun-it!"
Beulah Long—One can't be too careful, you know.
Mary Williams—Popularity and Beauty's Queen.
Bob Mayfield—"I'll say!"
Dargan Sims—Isn't there something more that he could do?
Farron Owen—The more boy friends the happier I'll be.
Ivan Chester—Could he possibly be serious?
Dorothy Vernon—"You're such a bold, bad man."
Dorothy Joslyn—"Me and my boy friend."
Vivian Crawford—Business comes first.
Paul Hooper—Always collecting library fines.
Miss Marshall—Did you ever hear her read?
Adalene Mayfield—Good looks go a long way.
Frank Hoke—"Please patronize the Vogue."
Wayne Waterman—"I'm a comin'."
Charline Vernon—"Gentlemen Prefer Blondes."
Elizabeth Draper—"I don't care to be drafted."

A smattering of nonsense—a bit of fun.
Some common sense—a few puns,
Please, take no offense—we mean none.

Clubs

This year the daily program was divided into nine periods. Each day one period is used as an activity period. All of the different clubs hold their meetings at this time. Both the Junior and Senior High Schools have organized many interesting clubs.

Junior Hi Clubs

The Travel Club was formed for the purpose of developing an interest in foreign countries and in parts of the United States that are remote from our own community. This club studies places of scenic as well as historic interest.

The Self-Improvement Club has as its chief object the development of personality. The members of this club believe that building a character is one of the best things to be derived from education. A strong personality reflects a character that is well built.

The D. B. K.'s advocate the development of the all round citizen. This club is an outgrowth of the "Best Citizen" contest.

The Sportsmanship Club advances the ideas of following rules and regulations, or "fair play" in games as well as in all school activities.

The Current History Club was organized for the purpose of stimulating an interest in present day happenings, and to show the fact that history is made every day.

The Science Club has as its chief aim the development of an interest in science that can be gained through reading and studying for the purpose of finding science facts.

The Writing Club was organized for the purpose of improving the legibility of the writing of those pupils who were found to be below the standard in this respect.

Senior High School Clubs

The Home Economics Club, which is a member of the Missouri Home Economics Association, was organized for the purpose of securing the interest of all students in Home Economics Education, of securing good fellowship among the students, and to help place the study of the art of home making on a professional basis.

The Latina Forum was formed to promote an interest in the study of Latin, in Roman life, and to participate in literary activities. Membership is open to those students who have completed Latin I and are making a passing grade in Latin II. Motto—"Age Bene Quod Agis."

The Teacher Training Club has as its aim to gain new ideas for and higher ideals of teaching. All teacher training students are eligible for membership.

The Nature Study Club was organized among the teacher training students. This club studies subjects from nature such as plants, animals, birds and flowers.

The Hi-Y, which is affiliated with the State Hi-Y organization in St. Louis, has as its aim to develop Christian leadership, based upon Christian principles, and to show that these principles will work in every day living.

FACULTY

BOOSTERS

Calendar for '27-'28

Hello! Everybody's ready to go. Just look at us all—old faces and new—the largest enrollment ever in our school. With the increase of the number of students, new members were necessarily added to our faculty. New and varied activities are sure to make our whole year a success.

Our Student Body has enjoyed a number of excellent programs this year. Some were presented by our clubs and classes, while we were occasionally entertained by the faculty. Frequently, we enjoyed an address from the ministers of our various churches.

The clubs which were mentioned above have proved to be very beneficial. Those phases of school life which formerly might have been neglected for lack of time now have a regular place in our daily schedule. These clubs have both a social and educational value.

Yellow Jackets! How much they mean to L. H. S. Our five boys, Joe, Oral, Hudson, Dargan and Wayne (not forgetting the subs and "scrubs") have certainly proved themselves worthy of all the honors bestowed upon them. Supported by a most loyal Student Body our boys won 18 out of the season's 20 games. This team will be long remembered not only by the students of this school but also by the citizens who so loyally supported our games.

Although we enjoy our school work we are always glad to welcome a vacation. The Teachers' Meeting in Springfield provided the first to be enjoyed. As usual our Thanksgiving vacation followed. Then Christmas—the best of all. Not only did we have our usual number of days but several days were added for the purpose of repairing the frozen water pipes. Of course, we have to have these vacations for “All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy.”

Intermingled with our regular work have been several interesting entertainments. A new feature in the world of dramatics was sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association. The musical comedy, “The Flapper Grandmother,” was a great success. The annual production of the music department of L. H. S. was the operetta, “Purple Towers.” This being one of the most attractive entertainments given, it was enjoyed by everyone.

We are looking forward to the Senior Class Play which we are hoping will be a pleasure both to the participants and the audience.

Summarizing this year of '27-'28 we believe it to be one of the most successful known in the history of Lebanon High School.

*This is the place where the students go
After school, ball games or a show,
This is the place to meet your friends
Here's where the good time never ends.*

*This is the place to come and rest
To serve you well, we'll do our best,
In winter it's warm, in summer it's cool,
We'll treat you right, that's our rule.*

*You might get sick, you can never tell,
Don't forget, we've the dope to make you well!
As for school supplies our line is complete,
"Anything for the student," we can't be beat.*

We tried to put Walter Weber in the joke box but he was too big to go in.

Mr. Rainey: "When was the revival of learning?"

Edgar Hatten: "The day before exams."

Tom McBride: "Oh, I wouldn't. They are too bitter, and almost all cob."

This advertisement is just to tell you youngsters that the officers and directors of the old State Bank are interested in you all—ready to encourage you in your aspirations and assist you in your enterprises. We have watched the boys and girls graduate from Lebanon High School for many years, watched them develop and take their places among the citizens of the State and the Nation. We are proud of them and proud of our school. And we are proud of you, too. We want you to succeed in every way, but mostly we want you to be good. That is not "high finance," but it is the best thing we can wish for you or anyone else.

ARE YOU SATISFIED?

Self satisfaction is one of the surest signs of mental inactivity. Those persons who are satisfied with very little education or a meager living, are in that condition because mental inertia had stunted their ambitions. Are your ambitions reached because you are graduating from high school?

We Believe in the Future of the Ozarks and Especially in the Lebanon and Laclede County School System

*The fall may come with its football,
And winter may come with snow,
And spring may come with its flowers,
And summer breezes blow.
The school may furnish us lectures,
Interesting or dumb,
But through it all, unceasingly,
The students chew their gum.*

*The sun may cease from shining,
The moon may crumble in two,
The stars may fall from the heaven
And the trees and grass turn blue.
The world may fall into ruin
And fire and flame may come,
But through it, incessantly—
The students chew their gum.*
